Offenders Admitted to Wisconsin Adult Correctional Institutions
Calendar Year 1980

HIGHLIGHTS

Admission Status: About 75 percent of all admissions were first admissions, representing 1,535 offenders. Males represented 94.9 percent of those first admitted or 1,456 persons, while 5.1 percent were females (79 offenders).

About 72 percent of the first admissions were offenders with a new sentence and were not probation violators. Another 20 percent were probation violators without new sentences. A small proportion, 6.4 percent, was reported as probation violators with new sentences.

All but 6 of the 377 readmissions (98.4 percent) were men. About 20 percent were parole violators without a new sentence; 36 percent were mandatory release violators without a new sentence; 14 percent, parole violators with a new sentence; and 29 percent, mandatory release violators with a new sentence.

Offense: Burglary was the most common offense category for first and readmitted men. Forgery was the most common offense among women. First admissions were made up of 31 percent person offenses (murder, assaults, robbery, etc.), 10 percent sex-related offenses (sexual assaults, sexual perversion, etc.), 6 percent drug-related offenses, and 50 percent property-related offenses (burglary, auto theft, arson, etc.).

Length of Sentence: Sentences of less than two years were received by 12.9 percent of total first admissions; of two years, less than three, by 23.1 percent; of three years, less than four, by 20.7 percent; of four years, less than six, by 22.2 percent; and of six years, less than life, by 21.1 percent. The median sentence was 40.4 months for all first admissions. The median for men was 40.5 months and for women, 29.8 months.

The average (mean) sentence was 56.1 months for all first admissions, men having a 57.1 month average and women, 39.1 months. (The average was computed after deleting data for offenders with an offense of first degree murder.)

Among readmissions, 2.9 percent received sentences of less than two years; 7.4 percent, two years, less than three; 13.5 percent, three years, less than four; 26.2 percent, four years, less than six; and 50.0 percent, six years, less than life. The median sentence was 72.0 months for men and 42.0 months for women. The average (mean) sentence was 99.4 months for men and 41.0 months for women.

County of Commitment: Milwaukee County accounted for 39.8 percent of all first admissions and readmissions in 1980 with 761 commitments (597 first admissions and 164 readmissions). By region, Milwaukee (Region III) accounted for 38.9 percent of the first admissions and 43.5 percent of the readmissions. Region I (Southern Region), containing 12 counties, accounted for 12.2 percent of the first admissions and 16.1 percent of the readmissions.

Region II (Southeastern Region), containing six counties, had 17.7 percent of the first admissions and 12.9 percent of the readmissions.

Region IV (Eastern Region), representing 17 counties, had 12.7 percent of the first admissions and 13.0 percent of the readmissions.

Region V (Western Region), representing 19 counties, had 8.3 percent of the first admissions and 7.5 percent of the readmissions.

Region VI (Northern Region), with 17 counties, had 10.2 percent of the first admissions and 6.7 percent of the readmissions.

Age: The majority of first-admitted men were under the age of 25, with 23.0 percent under 20 and 36.8 between 20 and 24. An additional 19.7 percent fell between the ages of 25 and 29. The 20 through 24 year category was the largest for women also, accounting for 34.2 percent of the first admissions. About 18 percent of the women were aged 19 or under, 16.5 percent were 25 through 29, and 15.2 percent were 30 through 34. Only 6.7 percent of those first-admitted and 12.2 percent of those readmitted were 40 or over.

About three-fifths of the readmitted men were 29 and younger with most, about 34 percent, 20 through 24 years, and 28.6 percent aged 25 through 29. About 15 percent of the readmissions were men aged 30 through 34.

The average (mean) age for first admissions was 25.3 for men and 27.4 for women. The average for readmissions was 29.4 for men and 30.8 for women.

Race and Ethnicity: Total first admissions were comprised of 60.5 percent Non-Hispanic White, 3.2 percent Hispanic White, 32.2 percent Non-Hispanic Black, 0.3 percent Hispanic Black, 3.5 percent Native American, and 0.3 percent Asian offenders. Whites (including 2.9 percent Hispanic) constituted 63.1 percent of the readmissions; Blacks, 36.4 percent; and Native Americans, 0.5 percent.

A larger proportion of the female first admissions was Non-White than reported for males (46.8 percent compared to 35.8 percent). Black women constituted 40.5 percent of the first admissions and 16.7 percent of the readmissions.

Marital Status: About 83 percent of first-admitted men were single. Of those, 65 percent were never married, 13 percent were divorced, 3 percent were separated, and about one percent were widowed. About 49 percent of the women were never married; 15 percent, divorced; 6 percent, separated; and almost 3 percent, widowed.

Among readmissions, 80 percent of the men and 83 percent of the women were single.

Grade Completed: About 44 percent of the first-admitted adults had completed high school or post-high school grades. Those completing ninth grade comprised 8.3 percent of the first admissions; tenth grade, 17.1 percent; and eleventh grade, 15.7 percent. The proportion of women who completed high school was lower than for men.
